Inadvertent errors or omissions that occur in connection with quotes and invoices shall not constitute a liability provided that any such error or omission is corrected as promptly as commercially practicable after discovery. The steps that we will take to deal with client-assessed liability issues after a job is complete are as follows: If you believe that we have not done the work that we set out to do in the correct manner or have caused consequential problems through our actions, we will arrange with you to come and investigate the problem at the earliest possible opportunity. This will be a CHARGEABLE visit, at a cost of £170 + expenses + VAT, to be paid for in advance for our engineers' time, to attend the site and discuss the issues that you wish to raise and investigate your claims. If it is found that the problems have been caused by negligence or as a consequence of our actions, we will endeavour to put matters to right at our expense and refund you the cost of the investigating visit as well, subject to our terms and conditions. If we discover that the issues raised are not due to our actions during previous call-outs, we will provide an explanation of what the current issue is and an estimate for the cost of putting it right. If the issue is due to a misunderstanding of the instructions that you received from our engineer or tradesperson at the time, then this will be a chargeable visit. We shall be entitled to recover the costs or damages from any person or contractor whose negligence or faulty workmanship makes us liable to pay for those damages or rectification of work.

8. Title to Goods

Whilst goods remain our property (we continue to have title over them) we have the absolute authority to retake, sell or otherwise dispose of all or any part of these goods.
